Ceremonies honoring the occasion have been scheduled at the Circleville Lodge No. 77 of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks starting at 7:30 p.m. today. In case of rain, the ceremonies will be held inside the Elks Home instead of on the front steps.

Supermarkets Start Price War; Consumers Benefit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The concept of "every day low prices" is creating new competition among grocery supermarkets in Ohio.

At least three supermarket chains say it is bringing in more business.

In Columbus, the city Consumer Affairs office reports that prices among two competitors — Kroger and Fazio's — were almost exactly the same in a recent price check. Spokesmen in several other cities said they made no survey of food prices.

The idea takes emphasis from so-called specials, discount coupons and loss leaders and puts it on lower prices for a broad range of standard grocery items.

The Fisher-Fazio's food chain headquartered in Cleveland advertised in recent weeks that it reduced prices

Mayors See Money Woes Top Problem

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The nation's mayors don't agree with the voters on every issue, but one problem always brings mayors and their constituents together — money.

The struggles to balance city budgets and to control soaring local taxes were seen — in a survey taken by the Associated Press at the U.S. Conference of Mayors' annual meeting here — as the most important gripes shared by mayors and citizens.

Mayors also complain about problems in attracting industry, developing downtown areas and improving housing in their cities. But they say the people themselves consider deteriorating streets, high crime rates, unemployment and even stray dogs as the major issues.

One hundred of the 300 mayors attending the conference responded to the survey, taken here Monday.

"Almost all our problems are related to money," said Mayor L.D. Ochs of Colorado Springs. But he added that his citizens make "demands for expanded services, while at the same time demanding that levels of taxes be reduced."

Surprisingly, only one mayor, L.T. Kramer of Paterson, N.J., said his city's biggest problems was quality of education, and he said his citizens agree with him.

Mayor Tom Bradley of Los Angeles said his citizens complain most over lack of jobs, but that his own problem is broader, including crime, rising city costs and poor housing.

Twenty-nine mayors said their cities' biggest problems are the rising cost of government and other budget problems. Another 12 named economic development problems as their top concern. Eleven identified housing, and eight said lack of jobs is a problem.

on more than 5,000 items. Sam Giamo, director of public affairs, said the stores did away with coupons, loss leaders and advertised specials.

"We think that this is a better deal for the customers," he said. "It gets them in and out of the store quicker, it makes us more efficient, gives us better control of business and eliminates the handling of coupons."

Giamo said the concept, started six weeks ago in Columbus, Mansfield and Youngstown, now extends to 23 stores around Ohio and will soon be in all 88 Fisher-Fazio's stores of Ohio.

He said business has increased about 15 per cent in areas where it first started.

Bill Jackson, a regional marketing director for A&P in Indianapolis with supervision in Ohio, said business increased substantially since A&P started a low price program in Cincinnati two weeks ago. He had no information on a percentage increase.

He said it was accidental that A&P started an advertising campaign in Cincinnati the same day as Fazio's. A&P still uses coupons and featured specials in other cities.

George Irwin, a regional merchandizing director for the Kroger Co., said advertising in central Ohio has settled down to normal weekly feature activity. "We are selling groceries much cheaper than we were six-eight weeks ago," he said. "It is very definitely an advantage for the consumer."

Joe Lichtenberg, public affairs officer for Kroger in Cincinnati, said his firm did not take the lead in recent price competition.

"We've seen normal increases," Irwin said of Kroger volume. "Our business is good. I think all business is better than it was two months ago." Irwin said Kroger has used the discount coupons for a number of years and still features advertised specials.

"We find the general public likes them," he said. "They don't understand grocery features without them."

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State representatives vote today on an "umbrella" energy conservation bill that embodies many proposals growing out of last winter's Ohio energy crisis.

Rep. Eugene Branstool, D-1 Utica, and other sponsors predicted approval, saying the measure is an attempt by state government to follow through with conservation practices it has been preaching. Government conservation is a key feature.

Branstool's bill isn't all the legislature has in mind, however.

Later this week, the Senate Energy and Public Utilities Committee is expected to formulate recommendations with regard to steps natural gas utilities must take to guard against future critical energy shortages.

In addition, the House is considering yet another proposal creating a cabinet-level energy department.

It presumably would absorb responsibilities of the two-year-old energy resources and development agency along with some of the energy-related functions of the natural resources department. Details of that measure have not been worked out, however.

Leaders of the Democratic legislature, although embroiled at the moment in their effort to get the state's two-year budget passed by a July 1 deadline, insist that they will forge a comprehensive state energy program before the summer is over.

The Senate, which returned from weekend recess Monday — a day ahead of the House — met a temporary setback in its consideration of the two-year appropriations bill.

Senate Finance Chairman Harry Meshel, D-33 Youngstown, had expected to entertain amendments Monday night to the House-approved bill. But he put the session off until Wednesday night after being told by some members they did not have their amendments prepared.

The state's 1977-1979 fiscal biennium starts July 1, and unless the budget is enacted by that time, Ohio will lack the statutory authority to pay its bills on time. Meshel and other Senate and House leaders insist the deadline will be met.

Branstool's energy bill stresses energy saving measures by the state, including a requirement that state automobiles average, as a fleet, 22 miles per gallon of gasoline by mid-1979.

The bill also contains various other features to encourage conservation, such as putting parking facilities at mass transit stops, and imposing parking restrictions that encourage car pools.

Private sectors would be affected by bans on the use of gas or propane for decorative lighting and heated swimming pools, among other things.

Senators approved two routine House measures without significant opposition Monday, sending them to Gov. James A. Rhodes.

They assure that juveniles are included under the requirements of the state's motor vehicle financial responsibility law, and bring motor vehicle and mobile home sales under the retail installment sales act.

Court Hears Pollution Case

CINCINNATI (AP) — The 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals is considering arguments by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency that Ohio's several utility companies are engaged in "dilatatory practices" to prevent imposition of emission standards in the state.

"Ohio has a very bad particulate problem," said Lloyd Guerci, an attorney for the U.S. Department of Justice, during Monday's hearing before a three-judge panel here. "The result of their request would be another unconscionable delay in obtaining clean air in the state."

Charles Light, an attorney representing four utilities, argued that an April 15, 1977 deadline by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency was "arbitrary and capricious."

"They failed to recognize the inner-relationship between particulate control and sulfur dioxide," said Light, who noted that particulates are trapped by a method of using sulfur dioxide.

He added that sulfur dioxide regulations had only recently been released. It would have been impractical, he said, to design new, or to upgrade existing precipitators until a utility could be sure of the amount of sulfur dioxide it would be permitted to emit.

Sulfur dioxide emission standards were delayed by the appellate court in an earlier case to allow time for comments to EPA on the regulations.

"The utilities were, in this case faced with a dilemma," Light said. "they emitted both sulfur dioxide and particulate which are tied together so far as control is concerned and yet their regulation was being done in a manner inconsistent with this fact."

The EPA attorneys warned the court against linking the two pollutants together.

They argued that under the Clean Air Act, that the attainment date would be three years after the plan was approved.

Ohio's plan was approved by the EPA administrator, who later ordered that the utilities attain final compliance with particulate standards by April 15, 1977.

Guerci said that the utilities involved were addressing the wrong body and other avenues of relief were available to them.

"Are we going to upset the entire plan for the state for a few plants," he said.

Involved in the suit are Buckeye Power, Inc.; Ohio Edison Co., Buckeye Power Co., Toledo Edison Co. and the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co.

The Northern Ohio Lung Association also was entered as a petitioner in the case against the EPA.

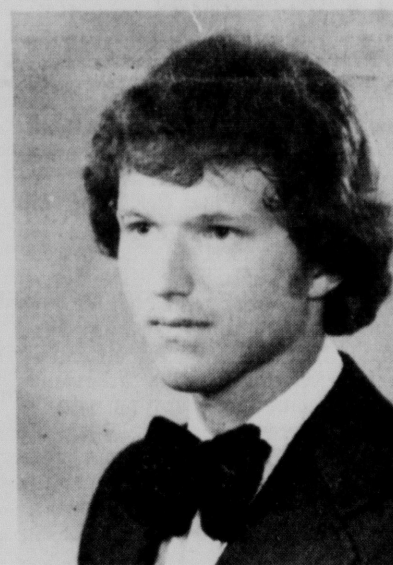

Light also complained that "procedural irregularities" in the formulation of the regulations had penalized the utilities.

Michael Hardy, arguing for the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. said that the EPA administrator recognized the April 1977 date as unrealistic.

"He also recognizes that his failure to accommodate the impossibility could subject those sources not complying to citizen suits," Hardy said.

Hardy said a failure to provide relief to the utility made it vulnerable to a "multiplicity of suits."

BRENT R. SMITH

Brent R. Smith of 136 Griner Avenue, has been named the winner of an Ohio State University Merit Scholarship, it was announced by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC) of Evanston, Ill. He joins a total of more than 3,800 Merit Scholars in the 22nd annual competition.

College-sponsored four-year Merit Scholarships are generally worth between $1,000 and $6,000 over the four years of college undergraduate study. The amount of the winner's scholarship stipend is not revealed since it is determined in part from confidential family financial information.

A graduate of Circleville High School, Smith is a member of "Circle K." He won a "CRC Handbook of Chemistry and Physics" for being the most outstanding freshman chemistry student at Ohio University-Lancaster, and plans on majoring in chemistry in the pre-medicine program at Ohio State University in the fall.

Smith's four-year scholarship is sponsored by the Ohio State University in Columbus. Ohio State is the state's major center for graduate and professional education. Its extensive research program encompasses more than 780 projects in 109 fields. 8,500 courses in 250 programs of study are offered in its 16 colleges. Among these, University College is designated the portal of entry for all freshmen. There also are regional campuses at Lima, Mansfield, Marion and Newark, and an Agriculture Technical Institute at Wooster.

The Merit Scholars were selected from among 14,000 finalists in this year's Merit Scholarship competition. The more than 3,800 awards being offered in 1977 have a total value of over $11 million and are supported by some 575 program sponsors. Since 1956, the first year of the annual competition, over 50,000 Merit Scholarships have been awarded with a total value of more than $136 million.

Schlesinger May Salvage Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House energy adviser James Schlesinger is going before a congressional panel to try to salvage the Carter administration's plan for keeping some controls on natural gas prices.

The administration hopes to persuade the full House Commerce Committee to reverse last week's decision by its energy and power subcommittee to deregulate the price of some natural gas.

Schlesinger was scheduled to appear today before another commerce subcommittee, the one on oversight and investigations. He will defend the administration proposal to allow a slight rise in interstate natural gas prices while federal price controls are extended to unregulated markets within gas-producing states.

The administration contends that deregulation would send utility bills soaring for consumers who rely on natural gas.

Rep. John Moss, D-Calif., chairman of the investigations subcommittee, said he also wants Schlesinger to respond to a new congressional study that says the administration overestimated the number of plants that would switch from oil and natural gas to coal under the energy plan.

Meanwhile, the House Science and Technology Committee was expected to deliver a blow to another part of the administration's energy plan. Carter wants to cancel a nuclear breeder reactor project at Clinch River, Tenn. The committee will probably vote to keep the project going.

Carter told a news conference Monday that despite the rising number of setbacks he still hopes the bulk of his energy program will be passed.

House committees already have turned down his plan for a tax of up to 50 cents per gallon on gasoline, his proposed taxes on cars that fail to meet gasoline mileage standards and proposed rebates to people who buy cars that get good gas mileage.

At Monday's news conference, Carter said he doesn't feel the negative votes on his program reflect ineffective White House lobbying, despite some congressional criticism of his techniques.

Senate Republican Leader Howard Baker of Tennessee said Monday that Carter "has a serious problem with Congress" because he is not paying enough attention to congressional leaders. And Senate Majority Leader

Robert Byrd, D-W.Va., said over the weekend that Carter suffers from "a lack of knowledge" about how Congress works.

On Monday, the House Ways and Means Committee rejected another of the President's energy-tax proposals, a proposed four-cents-a-gallon increase in the tax on fuel used by private planes.

But it voted to accept Carter's recommendations to repeal the 10 per cent tax on the purchases of buses and to increase to four cents the current two-cent per gallon tax on gasoline used for noncommercial motorboat fuel.

At his news conference, Carter expressed confidence in "the sound judgment of the Congress," but he obviously was irritated at congressional handling of his energy program and said he was "deeply concerned" about the "inordinate influence" oil company and automobile lobbyists have on lawmakers.

Ray Ringleader In Prison Escape?

BRUSHY MOUNTAIN, Tenn. (AP) — The last of the inmates who fled maximum security Brushy Mountain State Prison with convicted assassin James Earl Ray was recaptured today, authorities announced.

A Tennessee corrections department spokesman said no details were immediately available on how Douglas Shelton, 32, was apprehended. But guards had been concentrating their search for him in the area where Ray and Ray's cellmate, Earl Hill were seized late Sunday and early Monday.

Shelton worked on the prison's plumbing gang and is believed responsible for the makeshift pipe ladder used by the seven inmates to crawl over the wall. His capture keeps intact Brushy Mountain's record for allowing no successful escape.

Ray, meanwhile, was back in custody but not talking. Authorities said he, Shelton and Hill apparently spent weeks planning last Friday's break.

"As far as the escape, we feel at this time that we are looking at Doug Shelton, James Earl Ray and Earl Hill, initially," said Warden Stoney Lane. "We know it's well planned because of the ladder."

Ray, confessed slayer of civil right leader Martin Luther King Jr., and his former cellmate Hill are sharing a cell again in the prison's maximum security "D block" because of temporary overcrowding, officials said.

They were tracked down by bloodhounds and captured within hours of each other late Sunday and early Monday in the New River section of Anderson County, a snake-infested wooded area about five miles from here.

One prison spokesman said that when Ray was asked what he had been doing between the escape and his discovery Monday by a bloodhound, named Sandy, he replied: "Nothing."

Asked if Ray was being hostile or difficult Lane said, "He's not being different than he usually is." The warden added that Ray refused an examination by a medic upon his return, but said he was looked over for possible snakebites or other apparent injuries.

Two investigators from the House Assassinations Committee, investigating King's death, talked with prison officials for more than three hours Monday about the escape.

Ray remained silent.

"We came to the conclusion while bringing him in that any interrogation of Mr. Ray would be futile," Lane said. "He just wouldn't say anything."

Vance Sets Rights Talk

ST. GEORGE'S, Grenada (AP) — Secretary of State Cyrus Vance will try to clear up confusion about President Carter's human rights policy at the annual meeting of the Organization of American States opening today.

A U.S. official said Vance would meet privately with the other 24 foreign ministers at the conference to impress on them that the Carter administration is serious about human rights and speaks "with one voice on the issue."

"There is still doubt among Latin American ministers on the seriousness of the U.S. position on this," said the official, who asked that his name not be used.

Latin American delegates said conservative military regimes will argue that security forces must violate human rights to control terrorists.

"Nobody's going to be soft on terrorism," the U.S. official said, "but the mark of civilized society is how you treat people who break the law."

Vance, who will spend two days at the meeting, will "listen to the Latin Americans as they throw objections at him and state their case," the official added.

The secretary of state also will seek greater cooperation with the OAS Inter-American Commission on Human Rights. A report to be presented this week criticizes Uruguay and Paraguay for refusing to permit on-site investigations by OAS teams.

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices advanced broadly today in response to a prime rate reduction by a leading New York bank.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks rose more than 3 points in early trading.

Today's early prices included Westinghouse Electric, up 1/4 at 21 1/4; Avon Products, ahead 1/4 at 50; Hughes Tool, 1/4 higher at 41; and Chase Manhattan, up 1/4 at 33 1/4.

On Monday the Dow Jones industrial average picked up 1.61 to 912.40.

Gainers held a 4-3 edge on losers at the NYSE.

Big Board volume came to 20.25 million shares, against 20.63 million on Friday.

Showers Helpful To Farmers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Here is the agriculture weather advisory for Ohio provided by the National Weather Service:

Little change has occurred in the weather pattern and rain chances remain slim for Ohio crops.

Field Operations — High pressure continues to dominate the north central and Great Lakes region. A few showers moved out of the eastern half of Ohio this morning. A chance of showers was expected until frontal areas move back into Ohio about Saturday. Drying rates will be a little slow today and moderate Wednesday through Friday as air dries and sunshine predominates. No field delays are likely through Friday. Moisture consumption rates will be around 0.20 hundredths of an inch daily until temperatures move back into the 80s Thursday and Friday. The moisture use will then increase.

Wheat — Ripening and dry down will tend to be slow today, due to higher humidity, but will become good Wednesday through Friday as humidity dissipates. Moisture reduction rates of grain by Wednesday will probably be around one-half of a per cent per day.

Haying Outlook — Reasonably good hay-curing conditions will be occurring Wednesday through Friday and a good chance to dry-cure hay already down or any cuttings made today for harvest about Thursday afternoon or Friday.

Spray Applications — Favorable winds under or around 10 miles per hour and moderate temperatures will provide good conditions for all types of spray applications today and continuing on Wednesday.

SENIOR PICNIC — Hot dogs, baked beans, and potato salad were the primary menu items at the Senior Food and Fellowship picnic Monday at the Ted Lewis Park.

USDA Proposes Sugar Payments

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has proposed details of a sugar payment plan announced by President Carter last month to provide up to $250 million in subsidies to sugar beet and sugar cane producers.

A trade association which has opposed the plan since Carter announced it on May 4 called it a "quarter-billion-dollar giveaway" after the formal proposal was announced Monday by the department.

The proposal will be open to public comment through July 14, officials said. If adopted, it would provide a maximum of two cents a pound in federal payments to processors, who would be required to pass most of the money on to growers of sugar beets and sugar cane.

The plan has a goal of supporting the price of sugar at 13.5 cents a pound, a level USDA said is "necessary to cover the average cost of producing and processing sugar beets and sugar cane in efficient domestic producing areas."

However, because of the two-cent maximum, if the market price sinks below 11.5 cents a pound — and it has recently been near 10 cents — the goal of 13.5 cents a pound will not be achieved.

On the other hand, if the market price is more than 11.5 cents the payments will be less than the maximum of two cents a pound. If the market is 13.5 cents or more, no payments will be made.

Federal law prohibits USDA from making payments directly to sugar producers. Therefore, the money will go to processors, who will be allowed to deduct only their administrative expenses before passing the payments on to producers.

USDA sources said that the proposal as originally drafted would have allowed processors to keep up to 10 per cent of the payments to cover expenses. But the White House objected to allowing anything like a "standard

Showers Helpful To Farmers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Here is the agriculture weather advisory for Ohio provided by the National Weather Service:

Little change has occurred in the weather pattern and rain chances remain slim for Ohio crops.

Field Operations — High pressure continues to dominate the north central and Great Lakes region. A few showers moved out of the eastern half of Ohio this morning. A chance of showers was expected until frontal areas move back into Ohio about Saturday. Drying rates will be a little slow today and moderate Wednesday through Friday as air dries and sunshine predominates. No field delays are likely through Friday. Moisture consumption rates will be around 0.20 hundredths of an inch daily until temperatures move back into the 80s Thursday and Friday. The moisture use will then increase.

Wheat — Ripening and dry down will tend to be slow today, due to higher humidity, but will become good Wednesday through Friday as humidity dissipates. Moisture reduction rates of grain by Wednesday will probably be around one-half of a per cent per day.

Hay-curing conditions will be occurring Wednesday through Friday and a good chance to dry-cure hay already down or any cuttings made today for harvest about Thursday afternoon or Friday.

Spray Applications — Favorable winds under or around 10 miles per hour and moderate temperatures will provide good conditions for all types of spray applications today and continuing on Wednesday.

USDA Proposes Sugar Payments

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has proposed details of a sugar payment plan announced by President Carter last month to provide up to $250 million in subsidies to sugar beet and sugar cane producers.

A trade association which has opposed the plan since Carter announced it on May 4 called it a "quarter-billion-dollar giveaway" after the formal proposal was announced Monday by the department.

The proposal will be open to public comment through July 14, officials said. If adopted, it would provide a maximum of two cents a pound in federal payments to processors, who would be required to pass most of the money on to growers of sugar beets and sugar cane.

The plan has a goal of supporting the price of sugar at 13.5 cents a pound, a level USDA said is "necessary to cover the average cost of producing and processing sugar beets and sugar cane in efficient domestic producing areas."

However, because of the two-cent maximum, if the market price sinks below 11.5 cents a pound — and it has recently been near 10 cents — the goal of 13.5 cents a pound will not be achieved.

On the other hand, if the market price is more than 11.5 cents the payments will be less than the maximum of two cents a pound. If the market is 13.5 cents or more, no payments will be made.

Federal law prohibits USDA from making payments directly to sugar producers. Therefore, the money will go to processors, who will be allowed to deduct only their administrative expenses before passing the payments on to producers.

USDA sources said that the proposal as originally drafted would have allowed processors to keep up to 10 per cent of the payments to cover expenses. But the White House objected to allowing anything like a "standard deduction" and insisted that processors be permitted to retain only itemized expenses of handling the payments.

The Corn Refiners Association, Inc., which represents industries producing sweetener from corn, said the program will not solve the long-range problems of sugar producers and that the subsidies are "grossly inequitable to other commodity producers," particularly corn farmers.

In its proposed regulations, USDA emphasized that the payments will be available beginning with the 1977 sugar crops and will not apply to 1976 or earlier crops. There had been some pressure reported from sugar cane interests to have the program to include 1976 production.

The payment program will be available on raw cane sugar and refined beet sugar from 1977 crops marketed on or after May 4, 1977, the date Carter announced his decision to proceed with the plan.

Officials said the proposed rules include a requirement that the "processor and producer have a written contract stipulating the producer's share of proceeds from the sale of sugar in the marketplace and the method of payment."

Counties Reimbursed For Legal Costs

State Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson said today that his office has released $1,056,702.62 to 77 Ohio counties to partially reimburse the state's share of costs they incurred for court appointed legal counsel for indigent persons. Pickaway County received $4,927.50.

Ferguson said Cuyahoga County received the largest payment, $288,819.88, while Fayette County received $156.25, the smallest amount.

Payments to counties, Ferguson said, represents only 25 per cent of actual costs due each county. Funds available to the Ohio Public Defender Commission at this time prevent full 1976 payment, he said.

Payment of court appointed counsel fees under the public defender program, Ferguson said, were granted under legislation passed by the 111th General Assembly.

Rain Spotty Over Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thunderstorms diminished during the night over the high plains of Colorado, Texas and South Dakota. They also decreased from the lower Mississippi valley across the southern Appalachians into the Carolinas and the Ohio valley.

Most of the severe thunderstorms last night were over the Texas Panhandle and the West Texas plains.

Severe thunderstorms dumped locally heavy rain over parts of the front range of the Colorado Rockies. The storms then moved eastward over the plains. Flash flood watches were cancelled and severe thunderstorm warnings were posted.

The thundershowers to the south stretched into eastern and northern Kentucky and Ohio. Isolated showers and thundershowers fell from the Pacific northwest and the northern California mountains across northern Nevada and northern Utah. They also were in Idaho and western Montana.

Elsewhere skies were generally either cloudy or partly cloudy early this morning. Clear skies prevailed over Wisconsin, parts of central Texas and westward over the southern Rockies, through southern California.

Mom Sings The Mother's Day Blues

DEAR READERS: Immediately following Mother's Day, and for several weeks thereafter, I received numerous letters concerning that special day we set aside to "honor" Mother. Some excerpts:

"...As far as I'm concerned, Mother's Day is a crock of cranberries! All my kids are married and have their own lives, which is fine with me, but weeks can go by and none of them think to call me, but on Mother's Day there all fight over me."

CHICAGO MOM
"...I had only one child, and I regret to say that it was a boy. He is married now, so every holiday he spends with HER mother. Whoever said: 'A son is a son until he takes a wife, but a daughter is a daughter all her life' sure said a mouthful."

MILWAUKEE MOM
"...My husband gave me a card for Mother's Day, and I told him I wasn't his mother, so we got into a fight over it. I happened to be six years older than him, but I am not old enough to be his mother. Was I wrong to get steamed?"

NOT HIS MOTHER
(I told her she was indeed wrong—that she was probably overly sensitive to the age difference, and that provoked her anger.)

"...When my only daughter sent me a check for $25 with a note telling me to buy myself something for Mother's Day, I felt so bad I cried all day. If she's too busy, or lazy, or lacking in imagination to pick out a present, I certainly don't need her charity."

HURT IN WALPOLE, N.H.
"...My son who lives in another city forgot me again on Mother's Day, but he called me the next day and fell all over himself apologizing. The damage had already been done, and my Mother's Day was ruined. This is the third year he's done that. Next year I'm taking my phone off the hook."

EVERETT, WASH.
"...What do you do with a mother who sends back the Mother's Day gifts her children give her? She says, 'I don't need anything and I don't want anything, so please take it back!'"

D. AND S.
"...I wish my children would get together and buy me ONE useful gift. Every Mother's Day I get nine gifts I have no use for."

CLEVELAND MOTHER
"...How many times should a mother have to tell her children she's allergic to flowers? For Mother's Day I got five bouquets again! I told the delivery man to leave them on the porch, then I give them to my neighbors."

PHOENIX
"...For Mother's Day I always get a useless gift like a fancy nightgown I'll never wear, cologne I don't care for, or some little brooch or bracelet I'll never take out of the box. With prices so high these days, I wish they would give me the money instead."

PHILA. WIDOW
"...I am a retired school teacher who never married, but I've always loved children. The young boy who delivers my newspapers knew that, so on Mother's Day he left me a sack of jellybeans and a lovely Mother's Day card, on which he wrote, 'You would have made a wonderful mother.' Wasn't that dear?"

Sailors Reprieved

CLEVELAND (AP) — The 30 Italian sailors who were confined to their ship over the weekend because they didn't have visas for shore leave got a reprieve Monday — a 3-hour leave in Cleveland.

Agents for the freighter Golfo di Palermo had to obtain the proper visas from the U.S. consul in Montreal because the ship's captain, Mario Morin, failed to get them before the ship left Italy on May 24.

U.S. Immigration Service officials had denied the sailors permission to visit Cleveland and the sailors demonstrated aboard ship Sunday, saying they were being denied the "rights of free men."

Morin said the crew was paid a total of $5,000 and were eager to spend their money in Cleveland.

Raoul Romagnoli, the ship's engineer, said Cleveland is a popular stop because they can easily walk to downtown stores and restaurants.

The ship sailed for Detroit late Monday night.

Farmers, Dog Owners Face Test

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Pressure builds among Ohio farm groups to make certain farmers can kill stray dogs harassing livestock.

Farm officials say livestock killing, especially sheep, is more common as people move into the country.

Many farmers are annoyed over recent court rulings in which farmers have been fined for killing dogs allegedly harassing their sheep, says Ivan Cooper, director of livestock programs for the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation. He estimates more than 2,000 farmers in the state suffer

Old Governor's Mansion Deeded

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The deed to the old Governor's Mansion here was officially handed over Monday to its new owner, James A. Powers, a Columbus investor.

Powers was the second highest bidder during an auction of the old building but won after the winner violated state rules by paying the 10 per cent down payment by personal check.

Law requires the down payment be made in the form of cash, a certified check or bank draft. Total cost of the mansion was $224,000.

The building sits on 2.2 acres of land near the downtown district and has been owned by the state since 1919.

livestock losses from dogs annually.

"Until the law is changed, farmers cannot safely protect their livestock from killer dogs unless the dog is killed with an animal in his teeth," Cooper said.

According to the law, a dog which chases or injures a domestic farm animal can be killed anytime, anywhere.

But Cooper said judges have interpreted this to mean a farmer can only kill a dog on his property while harassing livestock. So there has been a string of cases in which irate dog owners have collected several hundred dollars after farmers killed their dogs.

A Wood County sheepman, Emanuel Miller, was fined $400 after he killed a coon dog he contended entered his barn one morning in 1975. He is appealing the fine. Although Miller lost no sheep, losses can range from a few head in a recent Crawford County farm incident to 175 on a Licking County farm.

The Miller case involved hunters and it has brought the livestock-dog problem to the attention of the League of Ohio Sportsmen. George F. Martin of the state's largest hunting and fishing group said hunters may help farmers pay future fines to maintain good relations.

"Certainly Mr. Miller got a raw deal out of it," Martin said. "In that case, sportsmen developed a negative image."

The federation looks for support from farm groups in early 1978 to change Ohio law so farmers will have more protection—so they can safely kill dogs caught harassing livestock. But Cooper predicts a confrontation between farmers, humane societies and possibly hunters.

"People get emotional about dogs," he said. "It's kind of like owning a gun. Some people think it's an inalienable right."

More than 2,000 Holstein Freisan cattlemen from throughout the United States will gather in Columbus June 26-30 for the national convention and sale of the Holstein Freisan Association. The national sale, to be conducted June 30, will feature 50 prize cattle. The event was last held in Ohio in 1961 at Cleveland.

A Page Of Opinion

Linking Civilizations

The 12-month school year continues to be discussed by some educators, as it has been talked about for at least 40 years, but there is no evidence it is winning numerous converts. There is a growing tendency of educators — and the public — to rebel at new financing schemes, however.

Year 'round classes or a drastic shortening of the usual summer vacation period of 12 to 14 weeks, would make more efficient use of the existing multi-billion-dollar investment in school plants and equipment, advocates of the plan contend. And children's mental habits would be subject to less serious interruption.

Some of the sentiment for the present system is rooted in custom. The labor of children once was needed in summer months when this was chiefly an agrarian economy.

That is no longer true, but another objection comes from parents who say long summer recesses are needed if vacations are to be family affairs and play their proper part in child development.

Rodgers Working On New Show

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE
NEW YORK — Richard Rodgers isn't particularly sentimental about the lovely music he's written over the last 61 years, and he doesn't look on any of his efforts as sacrosanct.

Nevertheless, when a rock version of the standard, "You'll Never Walk Alone," was sung on the Tony Awards TV show last week, Rodgers didn't stand up and cheer.

"What did you think of the interpretation?" I asked.

"Not much," he said slowly. "It doesn't bother me how any of the music is done, as long as it's good musical grammar."

"What is 'good musical grammar'?"
"Well, you can twist notes the same as you can twist words, for good or for bad. 'She don't' is ungrammatical in English. There are 'she don'ts' in music, too."

Besides, "You'll Never Walk Alone" happens to be from "Carousel," which happens to be, in Dick Rodgers' opinion, the favorite of all the Broadway musicals he has written. "Bar for bar, it hits a higher level, musically, than anything else I've composed."

On June 28th, Rodgers will celebrate (at a small private party with wife, Dorothy) his 75th birthday.

"I don't like to think of it in terms of three-quarters of a century," he says. "Seventy-five years isn't so bad. I have a lousy throat but, aside from that, I'm feeling perfectly well." Three years ago, as a result of cancer, his larynx was removed. Talking is now somewhat difficult for him, but Rodgers claims it has not slowed down his recent efforts.

"I'm discussing a couple of adventures with some people," he says — his adventures referring to a potential musical for Broadway. It will not be another revival, like "The King and I," which is back in New York.

"I'm more concerned about something new," Rodgers grins, "but don't ask me what it's going to be, because it's not at the stage where I can talk about it yet." If it works out, he will have a lyricist (another undiscussable). Although he wrote both music and words for one of his hits, "No Strings," he won't attempt the lyrics, himself, this time. "It's an awful lot of work, when it isn't your basic job."

It has been only two years since the last Rodgers' musical, "Rex," was premiered on Broadway — but the composer always has liked the challenge of a new project on the horizon. Over the years, it seems he has always had "something in the works" since he composed his first song at the age of 14. He is famous for composing songs with smoothness, precision and speed.

As most fans know, during the years when Rodgers & Hart were the duo that produced Broadway hits, Dick wrote the music first, and Larry Hart applied lyrics to the melody. After Hart's death, Rodgers teamed with Oscar Hammerstein II, and the procedure was reversed, with Hammerstein laboriously writing his poetic, sentimental words and Rodgers setting them to music.

It was often said that Oscar suffered for weeks to write a poem, and that Dick could set it to melody in a matter of hours. They used to say it was magic.

"Magical? Not at all," says Rodgers. "What nobody ever tells anybody is the way Oscar and I worked. Before we ever set a line or a note on paper, we had endless conferences about a show. We'd set the stage, scene by scene; decide what kind of pace to maintain, what kind of song should go where, and what kind of fella is singing it, and to whom. Sometimes we'd even select the title of the song, and what it should say to contribute to the story. Then, with all that decided, Oscar went to work to compose the lyric, and he'd turn it over to me. That's the way it worked in, for example, 'Bali Ha'i,' the song in South Pacific' that everybody said I'd written in exactly twenty minutes."

"Well, what really happened is that title had been set in the show for four months, and I had that title spinning around in my head for all those four months. When Oscar gave me exactly the right lyrics, my subconscious quickly brought up the melody.

"It's like pulling a cork, and watching the fizz."

Rodgers works with his lyricists on a "veto" basis. If one or the other doesn't "thoroughly love a song," the song is discarded. Tossed out completely. Never filed for the future. A great waste of material?

"Oh, no," Rodgers says. "It's easy enough to replace something you've written — unless you're such an egotist you think everything you do is biblical."

As of right now, then, Richard Rodgers has no backlog of unpublished songs to contribute to the world of music. "I'd be bored with old songs," he says. "I always want to create something new."

Could he write with a rock and roll beat — the contemporary sound?

"I wouldn't know how," admits Rodgers. "And I don't think it's necessary. The nostalgia thing is on its way back" (if, among the real music lovers, it ever went away) "and I think rock and my kind of music can exist nicely side by side."

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — What are home buyers up to?

Higher prices and perhaps higher mortgage rates, to cite two things. But the housing scenario in general doesn't lend itself to easy answers; it's riddled with mysteries.

One of the riddles is speculation, at a time when speculation seems to be growing dormant in some other areas of the economy.

Fears about interest rates and inflation, for example, have begun to abate in recent days, slowly but positively, as Washington continues to pour out bushel baskets of strong economic indicators.

As a result, a calm seems to be descending on some stock market analysts who had been frightened out of their blue chips for most of the past 16 months by the two leering "I's" of inflation and interest rates. They are now beginning to suggest that corporate stocks might benefit from the feeling of equilibrium.

Some of the big banks already have declared they are heartened by some recent economic trends and are proclaiming the imminent return to less inflationary times. Interest rates may rise, they say, but not ominously.

But going against the mood, in a manner far from fully understood, is the housing market.

In May, for the first time in four months, the level of mortgage rates on new homes rose, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board reported. The rise was small, to 8.96 per cent from 8.94 per cent in April, but the direction's the thing.

Sales of new homes have been strong, but existing home sales are booming, and so are prices. The median price of an existing single-family home rose $1,000 in April to $42,000.

But the national median price tells only part of the story. In the West, for example, the median price rose $3,800 in April, reaching $57,200. And if the survey were limited to California, the increase would have been even higher.

In that state houses are purchased for resale. The home buyer, in effect, has put himself in the position of a middleman, acquiring properties not to live in but to sell for immediate profit.

The question that cannot be answered is whether the phenomenon is regional or national. So far the California type of speculation has been rare in other areas of the country, but you must remember that many fevers as well as sound ideas have spread eastward from the coast.

At any rate, the existing home market is soaring. In April alone some 310,000 resale transactions took place, representing a total market value of more than $14 billion, according to the National Association of Realtors.

The April sales performance translates into a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 3.3 million units, which the Realtors say is a "healthy 17.4 per cent above the level of a year ago."

More than one-third of all resale homes now are priced above $50,000, in contrast to just over 10 per cent four years ago. With prices rising steadily, the speculative appeal is obvious.

Educator Surprised

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Principal Charles Koontz cried when he opened a box that his students at T.C. Roberson High School presented him on awards day.

Inside were an owner's manual and keys to a 1977 Chevrolet Malibu car. "Everybody knew but me," Koontz said. "I thought they were planning to build a covered walkway behind the building. They had even come in and talked to me about it."

By tradition, graduating seniors buy a gift for the school with money collected in four years of fund raising and left over from class projects.

"We had quite a bit of money left over and we wanted to do something for him," said class president Fran Patterson.

The class didn't have enough for the car in their treasury, so they got on the phone to friends and local businesses, who chipped in the rest.

Koontz has driven a 1965 Ford, which the students nicknamed the "Blue Goose."

The wood-boring beetle has been known to live as long as 37 years.

The name of the ouija board, used in fortune telling, comes from the French word for yes (oui) combined with the German word for yes (ja).

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I have a peptic ulcer that kicks up every once in a while. When it does, everybody hounds me to cut down on my work and to reduce my activity. Is the stress of working such an important cause of peptic ulcer?

Mr. D.M., Del.

Dear Mr. M.:

I was fascinated by the fact that your letter arrived at the same time that I read an interesting article in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

It has been observed that there has been a very definite decline in the frequency of duodenal ulcers since 1959. There has been a slow, progressive reduction of reported cases for the past 20 years.

In addition to these findings came the interesting fact that there was also a decline in the complications of duodenal ulcer and in the need for surgery.

A peptic ulcer occurs in both the stomach and duodenum and I assume that this reported decrease in cases applies to both. It is difficult to explain this phenomenon since there has been no diminution in the stress of modern living.

The interpretation of these findings seems to challenge the concept that the stress of modern living is a major cause of peptic or duodenal ulcer.

Even in the light of these unplained findings it is wise for you to try to reduce physical and emotional stress, follow a sensible diet, reduce tobacco and alcohol and maintain the antacid regime that your doctor prescribes. Perhaps in this way you can reduce the frequency and the duration of your attacks.

I suddenly became hoarse one day. I don't smoke. I'm 52. The specialist found that I have a paralysis of the left vocal cord. What possible explanation can there be for this? Will I always be hoarse?

Mr. N. N. G., Wis.

Dear Mr. G.:

Sometimes it is almost impossible to pinpoint the exact cause of a sudden paralysis of the vocal cord. In the absence of any injury or surgery or neurological disorder, the problem becomes difficult to evaluate. Occasionally, pressure on the "recurrent laryngeal" nerve can be made by an enlargement of one of the chambers of the heart. This readily can be ruled out. A viral infection that "hits" one isolated nerve is another possible cause, but a rare possibility.

With time, the other vocal cord may "cross over" and meet the paralyzed cord, and thus reduce the hoarseness. In special instances, injections of Teflon are used to bring the cords closer together, to improve vocal resonance.

HUD Secretary Hears From Mayors

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Two hundred mayors unloaded their frustrations with Washington on the shoulders of Patricia Harris, getting concern but not always reassurance from the secretary of Housing and Urban Development.

Mrs. Harris talked tough in handling the city officials' complaints, but won high marks from the mayors for her candor.

"She's not telling us we'll get everything we want, but at least she's telling us why we won't," said Mayor David Shepard of Oak Park, Mich. "I must say everyone seems pleased."

"There was a meeting of the minds," said Mrs. Harris at the conference's annual meeting here Sunday. "We understand their problems better and they understand ours."

Mrs. Harris was forthright in telling the mayors that HUD would insist they follow the law in spending federal community development money for projects aiding low and moderate income families. Several mayors called the policy harassment but she never backed down.

New York Mayor Abraham Beame said "there is a 100 per cent turnaround in our relations" with HUD. He praised HUD's response to his city's unique housing and community development needs.

Mrs. Harris took a wide variety of questions and complaints over a six-hour period, saying at mid-afternoon, "I'm beginning to feel like a shuttlescock," as she went from one meeting to another.

"We are dedicated to one thing, providing housing opportunities for the people in your cities," she told one group. But to a mayor who complained of housing requirements for funding low income projects, she said bluntly: "There will be no federal money to build racial ghettos. We will not do it."

Mayor Robert Quirk of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, complained about the 50,000 population rule to qualify a city for federal community development aid. He asked that HUD re-evaluate the rule, but Mrs. Harris replied, "I don't want to mislead you. We're not going to re-evaluate the formula or the population cutoff. No matter what we do, Plains, Ga., or some place is going to be left out."

Cash Distribution Hurt By Economy

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Lilly Endowment Inc., distributed $51.9 million to educational, religious and community organizations last year, but hard times in the stock market are forcing it to lower its sights for the next two years.

"We had been paying out more than our income, and we won't be able to do that any longer," said Richard O. Ristine, the endowment's executive vice president and secretary.

The problem is related to the declining value of Eli Lilly & Co. stock, the endowment's principal asset. The pharmaceutical firm's stock dropped from just over $1 billion in 1974 to $671 million last year.

"Mind if I go first? I think mine is beginning to self-destruct."

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I have a peptic ulcer that kicks up every once in a while. When it does, everybody hounds me to cut down on my work and to reduce my activity. Is the stress of working such an important cause of peptic ulcer?

Mr. D. M., Del.

Dear Mr. M.:

I was fascinated by the fact that your letter arrived at the same time that I read an interesting article in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

It has been observed that there has been a very definite decline in the frequency of duodenal ulcers since 1959. There has been a slow, progressive reduction of reported cases for the past 20 years.

In addition to these findings came the interesting fact that there was also a decline in the complications of duodenal ulcer and in the need for surgery.

A peptic ulcer occurs in both the stomach and duodenum and I assume that this reported decrease in cases applies to both. It is difficult to explain this phenomenon since there has been no diminution in the stress of modern living.

The interpretation of these findings seems to challenge the concept that the stress of modern living is a major cause of peptic or duodenal ulcer.

Even in the light of these unexplained findings it is wise for you to try to reduce physical and emotional stress, follow a sensible diet, reduce tobacco and alcohol and maintain the antacid regime that your doctor prescribes. Perhaps in this way you can reduce the frequency and the duration of your attacks.

Mr. N. N. G., Wis.

Dear Mr. G.:

Sometimes it is almost impossible to pinpoint the exact cause of a sudden paralysis of the vocal cord. In the absence of any injury or surgery or neurological disorder, the problem becomes difficult to evaluate. Occasionally, pressure on the "recurrent laryngeal" nerve can be made by an enlargement of one of the chambers of the heart. This readily can be ruled out. A viral infection that "hits" one isolated nerve is another possible cause, but a rare possibility.

With time, the other vocal cord may "cross over" and meet the paralyzed cord, and thus reduce the hoarseness. In special instances, injections of Teflon are used to bring the cords closer together, to improve vocal resonance.

HUD Secretary Hears From Mayors

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Two hundred mayors unloaded their frustrations with Washington on the shoulders of Patricia Harris, getting concern but not always reassurance from the secretary of Housing and Urban Development.

Mrs. Harris talked tough in handling the city officials' complaints, but won high marks from the mayors for her candor.

"She's not telling us we'll get everything we want, but at least she's telling us why we won't," said Mayor David Shepard of Oak Park, Mich. "I must say everyone seems pleased."

"There was a meeting of the minds," said Mrs. Harris at the conference's annual meeting here Sunday. "We understand their problems better and they understand ours."

Mrs. Harris was forthright in telling the mayors that HUD would insist they follow the law in spending federal community development money for projects aiding low and moderate income families. Several mayors called the policy harassment but she never backed down.

New York Mayor Abraham Beame said "there is a 100 per cent turnaround in our relations" with HUD. He praised HUD's response to his city's unique housing and community development needs.

Mrs. Harris took a wide variety of questions and complaints over a six-hour period, saying at mid-afternoon, "I'm beginning to feel like a shuttlescock," as she went from one meeting to another.

"We are dedicated to one thing, providing housing opportunities for the people in your cities," she told one group. But to a mayor who complained of housing requirements for funding low income projects, she said bluntly: "There will be no federal money to build racial ghettos. We will not do it."

Mayor Robert Quirk of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, complained about the 50,000 population rule to qualify a city for federal community development aid. He asked that HUD re-evaluate the rule, but Mrs. Harris replied, "I don't want to mislead you. We're not going to re-evaluate the formula or the population cutoff. No matter what we do, Plains, Ga., or some place is going to be left out."

Cash Distribution Hurt By Economy

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Lilly Endowment Inc., distributed $51.9 million to educational, religious and community organizations last year, but hard times in the stock market are forcing it to lower its sights for the next two years.

"We had been paying out more than our income, and we won't be able to do that any longer," said Richard O. Ristine, the endowment's executive vice president and secretary.

The problem is related to the declining value of Eli Lilly & Co. stock, the endowment's principal asset. The pharmaceutical firm's stock dropped from just over $1 billion in 1974 to $671 million last year.

Man Sought For Questions

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies are searching for an Urbana man they claim may have knowledge of the theft of a battery and gasoline from vehicle parked at the Contractors and Industrial Supply Monday.

C & I owner Robert Johnson told Deputy Nick Franklin that a battery and gasoline were taken from a pick-up truck, and more gas was taken from another vehicle parked at the rear of the building.

Kenneth Rigsby, a C & I employee, told Deputy Franklin that he spotted the stolen battery in an abandoned car parked on Route 56 early Monday morning.

The car is owned by the Urbana man, Linville E. Costo II.

John Hughes of Gahanna, a driver for Schwan's Ice Cream, 1093 Route 56, told Deputies that a thief took a raincoat from his private car.

The U.S. Air Force issue raincoat is valued at $12.

A 1976 Chrysler Cordova owned by Michael Seitz, 135 York St., was nearly destroyed by softball bats, according to Deputy Jim Bingman.

Damage to the vehicle was listed at $2,000.

The vandals apparently used bats Seitz had in the back seat of the car to batter the vehicle.

Thieves took a Hand Pack set radio valued at $750 from the lifeguard room at the beach house at Deer Creek State Park, according to Ranger Robert Kelch.

The theft occurred Monday about 6 p.m.

Holdup Man Needs

Vital Accessory

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A Pittsburgh man lacked a key ingredient in his attempt to rob a ticket agent at a downtown bus terminal, police said.

Ticket agent Ray Peacoe told police a man walked to his window Sunday night and announced, "This is a holdup."

"Where's your gun," Peacoe asked.

"My buddy has it," the man said.

"Well, I can't give you any money if you don't have a gun," Peacoe told the would-be robber.

"Okay, I'll go get one," was the reply.

The man left and a police officer in the area was notified.

Police said they arrested John King, 27, outside the terminal. He faces a hearing Friday on a charge of attempted robbery.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Auctioneer Earl Cornwell has a pitch that's bound to guarantee a full house at a sale he'll conduct next week.

Cornwell has been commissioned to auction off the estate of the late Marjorie Jackson, the 66-year-old grocery heiress and recluse who was found shot to death May 7 in her fire-damaged estate, along with $5 million in cash.

"Besides the baby grand pianos, the oriental rugs, the jewelry, the two Cadillacs and all the furniture," Cornwell said, "we have a truckload of boxes and garbage cans full of items from the house that we haven't even gone through yet."

Wharton-Alderman Vows Exchanged During May

MR. AND MRS. L. ALDERMAN

Miss Cindy Wharton became the bride of Mr. Lynn Alderman in a 2 p.m., May 28 ceremony at the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church.

The Rev. Donald Yocom performed the double ring service for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Trent Wharton and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Alderman, Waverly.

The altar was decorated with candles and vase arrangements of pink gladiolus and mums backed with fern. Miss Lucille Kirkwood presented a program of pre nuptial selections on the organ.

The bride was given in marriage by her mother and father and approached the altar on the arm of her father. She selected a floor length gown of white crepe, fashioned by the bride's mother. The gown featured an empire waist with lace insert, and a V-neckline. The bracelet length sleeves featured an overlay of lace. The hemline with scalloped lace edge fell from a juliet cap trimmed with white and seed pearls from her mothers wedding dress. She carried a colonial bouquet of daisies, babies breath and fern. Her jewelry was a gold bracelet which belonged to her grandmother, and a pearl necklace with chain, a gift of her aunt.

Miss Trenny Wharton, sister of the bride served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Mike Tingle, and Mrs. Mike Moore, both sisters of the bride.

Mr. Gordon Alderman, performed the duties of best man for his brother. Ushers were Mr. Wayne Alderman, and Mr. Rodney Alderman, both brothers of the bridegroom.

The reception was held in the church social hall immediately following the ceremony. The four tiered wedding cake was made by the brides mother and friends and was decorated with daisies and yellow roses, and the daisy mints were made by Mrs. Steve Jones. The cake was flanked with silver candlesticks which featured yellow candles.

Hostesses were Mrs. Wayne Alderman, while Miss Lisa Wharton presided at the guest register.

The new Mrs. Alderman is a 1976 graduate of Logan Elm High School and is currently employed as a secretary at Harold Mundy, Inc.

Mr. Alderman is a 1972 graduate of Waverly High School and is employed by Ralston Purina.

UMW Vote Scheduled For Today

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
AP Labor Writer

With a bitter campaign over, some 277,000 members of the United Mine Workers are voting today to determine who will lead their strife-torn union for the next five years.

The three-way race for the union leadership pits incumbent President Arnold R. Miller against Harry Patrick, his former ally and the union's secretary-treasurer, and against Lee Roy Patterson, a western Kentucky strip miner and member of the UMW executive board.

The candidates wound up their campaigns Monday in the heart of the Appalachian coal fields, each close to home and predicting victory.

No matter who wins the vote count, the election probably won't settle the internal feuding that has fractured the union or curb the spate of wildcat strikes that have stalled production.

Patterson has already vowed to challenge the election if he loses, and both government and industry officials fear that protracted legal struggles will interfere with — if not delay — the start of contract talks this fall. The current contract expires in December and all three candidates have warned of a possible nationwide strike.

Eligible to vote are some 187,000 working coal miners and approximately 90,000 retired miners in 25 states and Canada.

Union tellers who supervise the election said most locals would open their polls about 6 a.m. and close at 6 p.m., although some would close earlier and some would stay open until midnight.

Ballots won't be counted officially until July 1, but each candidate will keep his own tally. UMW bylaws require ballots to be mailed to union headquarters in Washington, D.C., for the official tallying.

Cincy Holds Levy Vote

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati voters today consider a 5.94 mill tax levy the embattled Cincinnati Board of Education says it needs to remain open through 1978.

The levy would raise an additional $13.4 million annually, according to the $80,000 campaign waged by the Committee to Keep Our Schools Open.

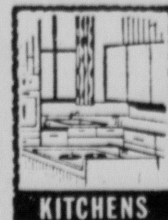

Robert Eicher, budget director, said current programs will cost $94.5 million in 1978 but expected income is $81.8 million.

Eicher said schools would close for 41 days at the end of 1978 if the levy fails.

Cincinnati property currently is taxed at $26.54 per $1,000 valuation for schools. The levy would raise the rate to $30, Eicher said.

The current tax rate is lowest of Ohio's eight largest city school districts. It is also second lowest among 22 school districts in Hamilton County, Eicher said.

Murphy building at Court and Main Sts., the Masonic Temple lodge, the Circleville Herald, the Calvary United Methodist Church, Berger Hospital, and the Buckeye Mart Store. More and more area business men and industrial plants are trusting J. E. Peters, Inc. for complete painting needs.

J. E. Peters can do the same for your business. With offices located at 705 E. Mound St., the decorator uses various techniques in industrial, commercial, and home decorating. J. E. Peters Inc. has made it a practice to always be knowledgeable in the latest application techniques, so that the job they do for you is the best possible.

A longer ladder and a bigger brush for industrial and commercial painting? Not at all. Different techniques that J. E. Peters Inc. uses include conventional brush and roller painting, conventional and airless sprays, hydro-blasting, cleaning, sand-blasting, roof rejuvenation and construction.

And paint goes beyond just water or oil base today. Many different paint requirements and safety laws have led to a large field of paint engineering. These include fire retardant paints which will meet and exceed OSHA requirements, technical applications, and corrosion controlling paints including epoxyized coatings.

J. E. Peters Inc. are also experts in wall paper coverings, vinyls, fashions, foils, and flocks, and of course as was said before, complete paint jobs in the commercial, residential, and industrial field.

Another specialty at J. E. Peters Inc. is painting elevated structures.

ORGANIZED IN 1935, painting has been a family business for three generations at J. E. Peters Inc. Their length of time in the painting business has been possible because J. E. Peters Inc. offers top quality service and quality work. A business doesn't stay in existence for nearly half a century if they offer anything less. The business was first known as Peter's Decorating Service and was started by the late Edwin Peters. It was later named J. E. Peters Painting, and today is known as J. E. Peters Inc. The outstanding work, quality service, and competitive pricing will not change as J. E. Peters Inc. continues to serve an increasing number of clients.

When elevated structures are mentioned, what is meant are in-part elevated water tanks, inside or out; grain leg elevators; storage bins; multiple story buildings; smoke stacks; towers, and more. Special equipment is needed for such jobs, and J. E. Peters, Inc. uses only the right equipment and their most experienced high men available.

This highly dependable company is also qualified to do parking lot striping and road painting for traffic flow.

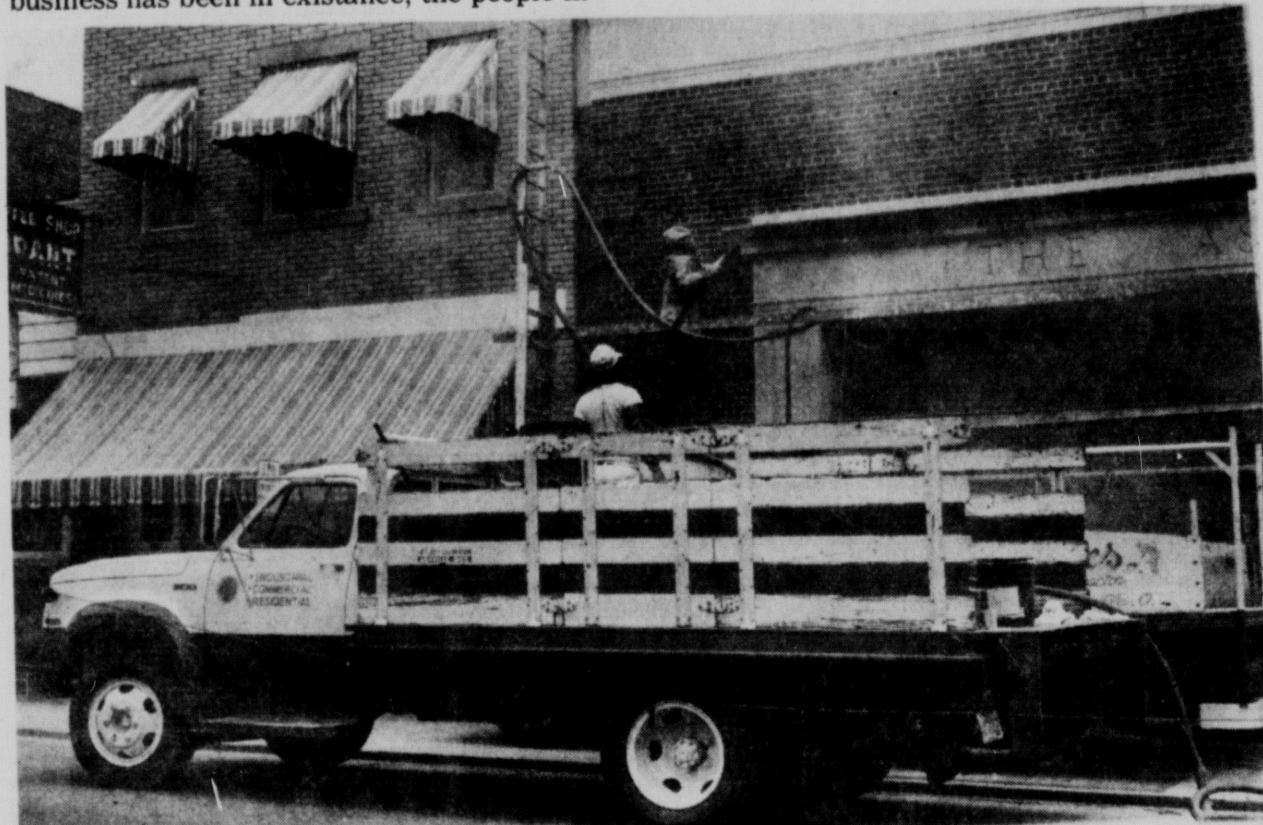

You can count on J. E. Peters Inc. to handle only the jobs for which they are qualified, in order to insure that you get the most for your money. They will also take all the necessary precautions and will even get expert advice if they are not totally sure of the situation or a particular job.

Let J. E. Peters Inc. consult and give you quotations on any painting needs you might have. They will be happy to engineer a complete painting program for your home, office, store, or entire factory.

TODAY J. E. Peters Inc. is still giving the same top quality service that has made the company a leader. All their equipment is highly mobile, and over the 42 years the business has been in existence, the people in charge have been on top of all new developments in the commercial and industrial painting field. That promise holds true for tomorrow too.

SANDBLASTING IS a common procedure used in the painting field. It means cleaning surfaces by the action of abrasives propelled by highly compressed air through a nozzle. Sandblasting will take years off the appearance of stone buildings, and it is the first step in preparing steel for painting. J. E.

Peters Inc. believes that the paint that is applied to an object is only as good as the surface it is applied to. For this reason, J. E. Peters Inc. makes heavy use of sandblasting. In the above photo, J. E. Peters Inc. employees are giving the Ashville Bank a sandblasting.

Mental Health Funds Released

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State mental health officials have received controlling board approval to go ahead with about $11.6 million worth of local mental health and mental retardation construction projects.

Of the total approved Monday, slightly more than $8 million is being provided for community mental health facilities, while the remainder is earmarked for those accommodating the mentally retarded.

Officials said the allocation is in keeping with a state policy, adopted in the late 1960s, under which treatment is being shifted away from large mental hospitals and placed in community oriented centers.

Local communities share construction costs with the state.

Members of the seven-member controlling board faced an unusually heavy agenda Monday — at its next to last meeting before the end of the state's fiscal biennium June 30.

Many of the more than 100 items involved personal service contracts which require board approval when entered into without competitive bidding. Most were approved.

In other action, the board released varying amounts for construction and renovation projects at state colleges universities, including Kent State, $1,036 million; University of Akron, $117,500; Lorain Community College, $164,360; Ohio State University, Lima Branch, $103,000; Case Western Reserve (family practice unit), $691,310, and Wright State University, $1,019 million.

The State Department of Education was authorized to spend $197,081 as its share of the cost, with local school districts, in the purchase of 28 new school buses.

Also approved was the release of $1.5 million for operating expenses of the lottery commission, and $200,371 for a welfare training program at the University of Cincinnati, under a contract with the welfare department.

Ohio's Environmental Protection Agency received permission to enter into 16 contracts, without competitive bidding, totalling more than $130,000. They involve about three dozen individuals working on various EPA projects paid for in full with federal funds.

The board deferred action on a mental health request to enter into a $505,000 contract with various physicians at state hospitals, paid $20 an hour for being "on call" during weekend hours — whether or not they actually perform emergency services.

House Finance Chairman Myrl H. Shoemaker, D-88 Bourneville, and other board members said they want to see figures documenting department claims that such arrangements represent the agency's most economical alternative.

8 Highway Deaths In 1-Car Crashes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Of the 12 persons who died on Ohio roadways last weekend, eight were involved in one-car accidents, Highway Safety Director Robert M. Chiaramonte reported Monday.

"And as we have previously reported, the majority of one-car crashes involve either speeding, excessive use of alcohol or both," the director said.

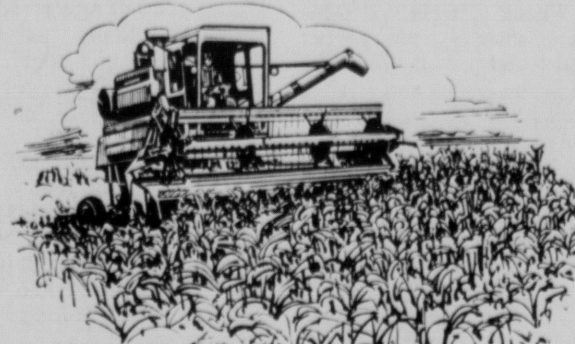

He said three of the deaths involve accidents where a driver had been drinking and that none of the victims wore seatbelts.

Two incoming freshmen at Westfall High School were accepted to the Mid-Western Music Camp, June 16-24, at the University of Kansas.

Beth Darst and Kim Lindsey will be members of the "Pride of the Mustangs" Band.

While attending the camp, both girls will play in one major ensemble, band

Beth and Kim have received partial scholarships from the camp and sponsorship funds from the Circleville La Sertoma Club.

Auto Flea Markets Under Official Fire

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Hearings open in the House this week on legislation that could be used as a vehicle to clamp down on automobile "flea markets," which do business in the state free of regulation.

The bill, approved last week in the Senate, would raise automobile dealer's license fees and require lease dealers to be licensed.

But a section dealing with auto flea markets was stricken because of legislative confusion over the position of the Bureau of Motor Vehicles, according to Sen. Paul E. Gillmor, R-2 Port Clinton.

That has been settled. "We were in favor of it," said Motor Vehicles Administrator Dean Dollison, "but there was a lack of communication among our own people, I guess."

Gillmor explains that shopping center developers and others with land to spare have been renting vacant lots to private automobile owners to sell their used cars.

"You park your car in the lot for $10 or $15 for the day," the Ottawa County lawmaker said.

"A guy could very easily be taken, particularly when someone comes in with a car from out of state," Gillmor said. "He (the buyer) has no recourse."

Gillmor, a conservative who often opposes regulatory measures, thinks the auto flea markets warrant regulation, or possibly even an outright ban.

Rep. Arthur R. Bowers, D-98 Steubenville, chairman of the House Highways and Highway Safety Committee, will shepherd the bill through the House.

"I think I might put it back in," he said of the regulatory language. "I want to see just how big this flea market thing is."

As originally proposed, the bill would have barred rental of land for the purpose of unlicensed sale of automobiles.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. Thomas E. Carney, D-32 Girard, already limits "casual sales" of motor vehicles to five transactions by an individual in a 12-month period.

"Casual sales" are defined as transfers between a consumer and a seller who is not a dealer, salesman, auctioneer, manufacturer or distributor.

Horse Manure Brings Attention

ALAMEDA, Calif. (AP) — If you want to be heard, says restaurateur John Beery, first you have to get attention. One way is to dump five cubic yards of horse manure on the steps of City Hall.

Beery was mad because the city had dumped debris on city property next to one of his three restaurants.

"I protested that what they were doing was bad for the neighborhood and bad for business," he said. "But all they told me was that they were sorry, but they didn't have the money to do it any other way."

Beery made his surprise delivery Sunday in a rented truck. He said the manure cost him $70.

"If they can dump on their property next to mine, I'll dump on my property. I'm a citizen and a taxpayer of this city and City Hall is my property," Beery said.

He said he's received no reaction from city officials.

8 Highway Deaths In 1-Car Crashes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Of the 12 persons who died on Ohio roadways last weekend, eight were involved in one-car accidents, Highway Safety Director Robert M. Chiamonte reported Monday.

"And as we have previously reported, the majority of one-car crashes involve either speeding, excessive use of alcohol or both," the director said.

He said three of the deaths involve accidents where a driver had been drinking and that none of the victims wore seatbelts.

Tidewater Tops Chiefs In IL, 4-2

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ed Kurpiel did it all for Tidewater with a grand slam home run that gave the Tides a 4-2 victory over Syracuse in International League baseball.

In other International League action Monday, Columbus trounced Pawtucket, 12-2, Richmond blanked Toledo, 2-0 and Charleston edged Rochester, 4-3, in ten innings.

Kurpiel's blast came in the fifth inning off Louis Quintana, pitching his first game after being acquired by Syracuse from the California Angels. The victory was the first for the Tides after losing five straight. Syracuse has now lost nine of their last 10 games.

In Toledo, the host Mud Hens stretched their scoreless streak to 25 innings, while Richmond collected two unearned runs in the fourth to pick up the victory. Roger Alexander, pitched a strong eight and one-third innings and struck out eight Hens to pick up the victory. Fred Beene, now 2-7, was tagged with the loss.

Ken Macha, recently optioned from Pittsburgh, went four-for-four as the Columbus Clipper bombed Pawtucket for 18 hits. Dave Coleman accounted for Pawtucket's scoring with a two-run homer in the eighth.

Terry Puhl's tenth inning sacrifice fly sent home designated hitter Mark Rhea and gave Rochester the edge over Charleston. The Charlies had jumped to an early 2-0 lead in the fourth on Joe Cannon's two run homer. Terry Crowley of Rochester had a solo roundtripper in the seventh.

Clippers Pound Pawtucket 12-3

The Columbus Clippers blasted the league leading Pawtucket Red Sox 12-3 in front of 2,823 fans at Franklin County Stadium's first Nostalgia Night of the season Monday.

Former Columbus players Cot Deal and Mo Mozzali were introduced to the crowd before the game.

It was southpaw Randy Hopkins that took the victory, making his first start of the season. He received help from fireman Rich Standart in the eighth.

Ken Macha had four hits in as many plate appearances for the Clips, and also scored four runs. Dave Augustine also had three hits for the Columbus nine, one a double, as the Clippers pounded Pawtucket hurlers for an 18 hit barrage.

Greg Turlecky goes against Don Aase tonight in a 7:45 start at Franklin County Stadium. All youngsters present tonight will receive a miniature flag.

Floundering Teams

Worry NBA Owners

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — It's been nearly a year since the owners of National Basketball Association teams cast a lifeline to the members of the sinking American Basketball Association, and those who grabbed it are finding the price of survival to be steep indeed.

Just how steep was expected to be a prime topic of conversation at the annual summer meetings of the NBA Board of Governors, which opened today and will continue through Friday at the Hotel del Coronado.

It was at last year's summer meetings, June 17, 1976, at Hyannis, Mass., that an agreement was announced which brought an end to the 9-year-old ABA, with four teams being absorbed into the NBA. Now, nearly 12 months later, those four survivors — the Denver Nuggets, Indiana Pacers, New York Nets and San Antonio Spurs — are still floundering.

Ford's Tee Shot Shakes Garagiola

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Former President Gerald R. Ford boomed a tee shot 250 yards down the ninth fairway and one of his playing partners, Joe Garagiola, grimaced.

"All my life I didn't take batting practice behind (Stan) Musial. I didn't want to be embarrassed. Now look what happens?" Garagiola asked no one in particular.

That was one of the bright spots for the former President in his play Monday in the 11th Bogie Busters, a charity tournament that has raised $100,000 in its first decade.

Ford hit six good drives, the biggest going 250, 248 and 235 yards down NCR

South's lush fairways.

And then there were eight errant ones. Ford sliced six tee shots into woods on the right. He hit another into trees on the left. And he dribbled one into the 10th rough.

Maybe Ford could have been excused for the latter shot. He had just undergone a ribbing from comedian Bob Hope, another of his partners, in a television interview on the 10th tee.

Hope had inquired about Ford's first ace. "It took me about 40 years, Bob," answered the former President. "It was a good shot. I hope the next one is easier and sooner."

Hope retorted, "It's like Phyllis Diller winning a Farrah Fawcett look-alike contest. I figured it was one of Danny Thomas' miracles."

Thomas was the sponsor of the Memphis pro golf tour stop where Ford scored his hole-in-one last week.

Despite a horde of Secret Service agents, autograph signing and picture poses, the fivesome of Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes, host Cy Laughter, Ford, Hope and Garagiola managed eight birdies in 18 holes.

"They were playing under the scramble format, where all five hit a tee shot and the best drive is selected. Then everybody hits from that spot and the best second shot is picked.

Conception Earning His Pay

CINCINNATI (AP) — Those waiting for signs of complacency from Reds shortstop David Conception, in the first year of a five-year contract, shouldn't hold their breaths, says Manager Sparky Anderson.

"There are certain people in this business who are gamers, who'll give you everything they've got no matter what," said Anderson. "Dave's one of them."

"Nobody in the league is playing as well both in the field and at bat," he added.

Conception, who marks his 29th birthday June 17, is batting .315 this season, 43 points above his lifetime average, and has committed only two errors.

Conception explained that his multi-year contract has served to motivate him.

"When you think you deserve it (a high-paying multi-year contract), you play hard," said Conception, "And you have to keep playing hard to show everyone else that you deserve it."

Conception attributes his spectacular fielding this season to a new "sweet glove" given him by Montreal Expos coach Ozzie Virgil last winter. "My glove is sweet this year," he said. "I used to drop a lot of balls. Now I drop only two balls this year."

Conception, who underwent surgery over the winter for a hand injury suffered last season, said he's able to swing his bat with both hands again since the operation.

"I can wrap my hands around the bat much better, and I can swing all the way through."

Conception, National League's starting All-Star shortstop the last two years, said he sets no goals for himself.

"My goal is to win the pennant, that's all," he said.

Tidewater Tops Chiefs In IL, 4-2

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ed Kurpiel did it all for Tidewater with a grand slam home run that gave the Tides a 4-2 victory over Syracuse in International League baseball.

In other International League action Monday, Columbus trounced Pawtucket, 12-2, Richmond blanked Toledo, 2-0 and Charleston edged Rochester, 4-3, in ten innings.

Kurpiel's blast came in the fifth inning off Louis Quintana, pitching his first game after being acquired by Syracuse from the California Angels. The victory was the first for the Tides after losing five straight. Syracuse has now lost nine of their last 10 games.

In Toledo, the host Mud Hens stretched their scoreless streak to 25 innings, while Richmond collected two unearned runs in the fourth to pick up the victory. Roger Alexander, pitched a strong eight and one-third innings and struck out eight Hens to pick up the victory. Fred Beene, now 2-7, was tagged with the loss.

Ken Macha, recently optioned from Pittsburgh, went four-for-four as the Columbus Clipper bombed Pawtucket for 18 hits. Dave Coleman accounted for Pawtucket's scoring with a two-run homer in the eighth.

Terry Puhl's tenth inning sacrifice fly sent home designated hitter Mark Rhea and gave Rochester the edge over Charleston. The Charlies had jumped to an early 2-0 lead in the fourth on Joe Cannon's two run homer. Terry Crowley of Rochester had a solo roundtripper in the seventh.

Clippers Pound Pawtucket 12-3

The Columbus Clippers blasted the league leading Pawtucket Red Sox 12-3 in front of 2,823 fans at Franklin County Stadium's first Nostalgia Night of the season Monday.

Former Columbus players Cot Deal and Mo Mozzali were introduced to the crowd before the game.

It was southpaw Randy Hopkins that took the victory, making his first start of the season. He received help from fireman Rich Standart in the eighth.

Ken Macha had four hits in as many plate appearances for the Clips, and also scored four runs. Dave Augustine also had three hits for the Columbus nine, one a double, as the Clippers pounded Pawtucket hurlers for an 18 hit barrage.

Greg Turlecky goes against Don Aase tonight in a 7:45 start at Franklin County Stadium. All youngsters present tonight will receive a miniature flag.

Floundering Teams

Worry NBA Owners

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — It's been nearly a year since the owners of National Basketball Association teams cast a lifeline to the members of the sinking American Basketball Association, and those who grabbed it are finding the price of survival to be steep indeed.

Just how steep was expected to be a prime topic of conversation at the annual summer meetings of the NBA Board of Governors, which opened today and will continue through Friday at the Hotel del Coronado.

It was at last year's summer meetings, June 17, 1976, at Hyannis, Mass., that an agreement was announced which brought an end to the 9-year-old ABA, with four teams being absorbed into the NBA. Now, nearly 12 months later, those four survivors — the Denver Nuggets, Indiana Pacers, New York Nets and San Antonio Spurs — are still floundering.

Ford's Tee Shot Shakes Garagiola

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Former President Gerald R. Ford boomed a tee shot 250 yards down the ninth fairway and one of his playing partners, Joe Garagiola, grimaced.

"All my life I didn't take batting practice behind (Stan) Musial. I didn't want to be embarrassed. Now look what happens?" Garagiola asked no one in particular.

That was one of the bright spots for the former President in his play Monday in the 11th Bogle Busters, a charity tournament that has raised $100,000 in its first decade.

Ford hit six good drives, the biggest going 250, 248 and 235 yards down NCR

South's lush fairways.

And then there were eight errant ones. Ford sliced six tee shots into woods on the right. He hit another into trees on the left. And he dribbled one into the 10th rough.

Maybe Ford could have been excused for the latter shot. He had just undergone a ribbing from comedian Bob Hope, another of his partners, in a television interview on the 10th tee.

Hope had inquired about Ford's first ace. "It took me about 40 years, Bob," answered the former President. "It was a good shot. I hope the next one is easier and sooner."

Hope retorted, "It's like Phyllis Diller winning a Farrah Fawcett look-alike contest. I figured it was one of Danny Thomas' miracles."

Thomas was the sponsor of the Memphis pro golf tour stop where Ford scored his hole-in-one last week.

Despite a horde of Secret Service agents, autograph signing and picture poses, the fivesome of Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes, host Cy Laughter, Ford, Hope and Garagiola managed eight birdies in 18 holes.

They were playing under the scramble format, where all five hit a tee shot and the best drive is selected. Then everybody hits from that spot and the best second shot is picked.

A-C Aces Lose Mid State Tilt, 13-5

Canal Winchester downed Amanda-Clearcreek, 13-5, in a Mid State Pony League clash Monday.

Ted Hippler hurled the win while Dave Martin and George Conrad shared the hill for the Aces.

C. C. Kern, Martin, Conrad and Denny Compton provided the hits for Amanda-Clearcreek while Eric Cristopher and Jim Davis each scored two runs for the Aces.

Amanda-Clearcreek will be at Lithopolis Thursday in their next Mid State Contest.

Seaver Reported Set For Reds Uniform

ATLANTA (AP) — "You don't give away a Tom Seaver," said New York Mets' Manager Joe Torre.

Perhaps. But the Mets certainly are trying to trade the star pitcher.

The feud between the team's three-time Cy Young Award winner and Mets' management seems to have reached a head and Seaver appears to be headed elsewhere, with rumors rampant that Cincinnati is that place. Seaver must approve any deal the Mets make, and he said he would be willing to go to the world champion Reds.

"If there is a deal with the Reds, I would okay it," the 32-year-old right-hander said Monday night. "This thing has been coming to a head for a year and a half. Last year, I just kept things inside me, things I shouldn't have. Things were said in the press that branded me as an 'ingrate' during contract negotiations."

Seaver and the Mets conducted bitter contract talks prior to the 1976 season and the pitcher eventually signed a three-year, $750,000 contract. But that was before the lucrative free agent market. Now Seaver wants to renegotiate the contract and the Mets have refused.

In a statement released Monday by the Mets and signed by Board Chairman M. Donald Grant, the club explained its stand.

"So that there can be no misunderstanding regarding Tom Seaver and his association with us," the statement read, "we wish to announce we do not and never have wanted to trade Seaver."

"However, Tom now wished to renegotiate his contract that he was so happy with a year ago. Our board of directors voted unanimously against renegotiation."

"The contract is the fundamental cornerstone of our country and baseball as well."

"In the spring of 1976, Tom asked for and received a three-year contract and expressed his happiness with the terms. Never once during the 1976 season did he register anything but satisfaction with the contract."

"With the advent of the free agent draft, other players were promised more lucrative contracts. It was then that Tom expressed his unhappiness."

And Seaver has continued to express his unhappiness with the Mets, especially when the team failed to sign

Seghi Seeks Truce Of Robinson, Carty

CLEVELAND (AP) — If controversy could be exchanged for cash, the Cleveland Indians would be one of the richest teams in baseball.

In Monday's round of intramural excitement:

—Manager Frank Robinson denied published reports saying he would quit at the end of the year;

—General Manager Phil Seghi met with Robinson and designated hitter Rico Carty in an attempt to settle their muchpublicized feud; and;

—Utility infielder Larvell Blanks erupted in a clubhouse tantrum.

All of the above took place before the Indians dropped a 3-0 decision to Berl Blyleven and the Texas Rangers Monday night, coming up with just four singles.

The story Robinson was contemplating quitting as manager at the end of the season came from a local newspaper Sunday morning, with a headline error building it out of proportion. It was noted both by the writer of the original column and by Robinson the story was mostly speculation by the writer.

The Cleveland Manager then went to Seghi's office in an attempt to iron out the problem with Carty, whom Robinson fined $1,000 for insubordination and sent home during the recent road trip west.

Each accused the other of lying about the situation after the incident in Oakland.

"I tried to impress upon both of them that I'm not interested in them walking hand-in-hand, but I do want them to work hand-in-hand," Seghi said. "I'd call it a mannerly and professional approach to the problem...I feel it would be solved in the best interests of the Indians."

"Rico is doing everything possible to get (his injured left leg) in shape," Seghi added. "When he feels he's ready to play, he will tell Frank."

Carty must remain on the disabled list until at least Friday night. He injured his leg two weeks ago in Detroit, scoring from second base on a teammate's single.

NFL Owners Eye Super Bowl Sites

NEW YORK (AP) — Eight cities were to place bids for future Super Bowls before National Football League owners today at the NFL's annual spring meetings.

The cities bidding for the NFL championship games of 1979, 1980 and 1981 were New Orleans, the site of the 1978 Super Bowl; Pasadena, Calif., which hosted the game earlier this year; Dallas; Seattle; Pontiac, Mich.; Houston; Los Angeles and Miami. Houston, where the game would be held in Rice Stadium, seems to have the inside track for the 1979 game.

Also on the agenda for the owners was the matter of retroactive compensation. The league has to decide whether a team that signed a free agent who played out his option with another team owes any compensation to the player's original club. That includes any player who jumped to the World Football League, then back to the NFL, and a player who simply played out his option and signed with another NFL team.

any free agents last winter. Now, apparently, both sides have had enough, and Seaver is available for the best offer.

In addition to Cincinnati, the teams rumored to be bartering with the Mets for Seaver are the Pittsburgh Pirates, Philadelphia Phillies and Atlanta Braves. But the Reds appear to have the inside track.

Cincinnati's offer for Seaver was said to include ace reliever Rawly Eastwick, who has announced he will play out his option and leave the Reds after this season. Also rumored to be a part of the transaction are pitcher Gary Nolan and infielder Doug Flynn.

"The deal has already been made," Reds third baseman Pete Rose said Monday.

"I will never sign another contract with the Reds," Eastwick said Monday. "I'm being held out of games here and I can't pitch effectively unless I pitch often. I'm being played around with."

Eastwick also said he would not sign a contract this season and would become a free agent after the season instead.

Seaver Reported Set For Reds Uniform

ATLANTA (AP) — "You don't give away a Tom Seaver," said New York Mets' Manager Joe Torre.

Perhaps. But the Mets certainly are trying to trade the star pitcher.

The feud between the team's three-time Cy Young Award winner and Mets' management seems to have reached a head and Seaver appears to be headed elsewhere, with rumors rampant that Cincinnati is that place. Seaver must approve any deal the Mets make, and he said he would be willing to go to the world champion Reds.

"If there is a deal with the Reds, I would okay it," the 32-year-old right-hander said Monday night. "This thing has been coming to a head for a year and a half. Last year, I just kept things inside me, things I shouldn't have. Things were said in the press that branded me as an 'ingrate' during contract negotiations."

Seaver and the Mets conducted bitter contract talks prior to the 1976 season and the pitcher eventually signed a three-year, $750,000 contract. But that was before the lucrative free agent market. Now Seaver wants to renegotiate the contract and the Mets have refused.

In a statement released Monday by the Mets and signed by Board Chairman M. Donald Grant, the club explained its stand.

"So that there can be no misunderstanding regarding Tom Seaver and his association with us," the statement read, "we wish to announce we do not and never have wanted to trade Seaver."

"However, Tom now wished to renegotiate his contract that he was so happy with a year ago. Our board of directors voted unanimously against renegotiation."

"The contract is the fundamental cornerstone of our country and baseball as well."

"In the spring of 1976, Tom asked for and received a three-year contract and expressed his happiness with the terms. Never once during the 1976 season did he register anything but satisfaction with the contract."

"With the advent of the free agent draft, other players were promised more lucrative contracts. It was then that Tom expressed his unhappiness."

And Seaver has continued to express his unhappiness with the Mets, especially when the team failed to sign any free agents last winter. Now, apparently, both sides have had enough, and Seaver is available for the best offer.

In addition to Cincinnati, the teams rumored to be bartering with the Mets for Seaver are the Pittsburgh Pirates, Philadelphia Phillies and Atlanta Braves. But the Reds appear to have the inside track.

Cincinnati's offer for Seaver was said to include ace reliever Rawly Eastwick, who has announced he will play out his option and leave the Reds after this season. Also rumored to be a part of the transaction are pitcher Gary Nolan and infielder Doug Flynn.

"The deal has already been made," Reds third baseman Pete Rose said Monday.

"I will never sign another contract with the Reds," Eastwick said Monday. "I'm being held out of games here and I can't pitch effectively unless I pitch often. I'm being played around with."

Eastwick also said he would not sign a contract this season and would become a free agent after the season instead.

Seghi Seeks Truce Of Robinson, Carty

CLEVELAND (AP) — If controversy could be exchanged for cash, the Cleveland Indians would be one of the richest teams in baseball.

In Monday's round of intramural excitement:

—Manager Frank Robinson denied published reports saying he would quit at the end of the year;

—General Manager Phil Seghi met with Robinson and designated hitter Rico Carty in an attempt to settle their muchpublicized feud, and;

—Utility infielder Larvell Blanks erupted in a clubhouse tantrum.

All of the above took place before the Indians dropped a 3-0 decision to Berl Blyleven and the Texas Rangers Monday night, coming up with just four singles.

The story Robinson was contemplating quitting as manager at the end of the season came from a local newspaper Sunday morning, with a headline error building it out of proportion. It was noted both by the writer of the original column and by Robinson the story was mostly speculation by the writer.

The Cleveland Manager then went to Seghi's office in an attempt to iron out the problem with Carty, whom Robinson fined $1,000 for insubordination and sent home during the recent road trip west.

Each accused the other of lying about the situation after the incident in Oakland.

"I tried to impress upon both of them that I'm not interested in them walking hand-in-hand, but I do want them to work hand-in-hand," Seghi said. "I'd call it a mannerly and professional approach to the problem...I feel it would be solved in the best interests of the Indians."

"Rico is doing everything possible to get (his injured left leg) in shape," Seghi added. "When he feels he's ready to play, he will tell Frank."

Carty must remain on the disabled list until at least Friday night. He injured his leg two weeks ago in Detroit, scoring from second base on a teammate's single.

NFL Owners Eye Super Bowl Sites

NEW YORK (AP) — Eight cities were to place bids for future Super Bowls before National Football League owners today at the NFL's annual spring meetings.

The cities bidding for the NFL championship games of 1979, 1980 and 1981 were New Orleans, the site of the 1978 Super Bowl; Pasadena, Calif., which hosted the game earlier this year; Dallas; Seattle; Pontiac, Mich.; Houston; Los Angeles and Miami. Houston, where the game would be held in Rice Stadium, seems to have the inside track for the 1979 game.

Also on the agenda for the owners was the matter of retroactive compensation. The league has to decide whether a team that signed a free agent who played out his option with another team owes any compensation to the player's original club. That includes any player who jumped to the World Football League, then back to the NFL, and a player who simply played out his option and signed with another NFL team.

ZONING AND THE LAND OWNER

A good community has zoning laws to protect its homeowners. However, zoning is even more important to the buyers of land who are planning to erect their own home. Some communities may have zoning that will make it impossible for you to build the home you plan.
 For instance, one community may require a specific amount of acreage for a one-family zone. If you buy a smaller lot than the zoning ordinance requires, you may not be able to build the house you want on the lot you own.

One of the things he devotes his time to is building catamaran boats. After finishing last season he helped deliver two boats to Florida. They had to take the boats through the Gulf of Mexico area he called "the hijacking triangle" because of the disappearance of boats in the area. Many sources believe the yachts were hijacked by drug smugglers.

When they got to that area one boat was taken overland and Ebsen helped sail the other to Sarasota, Fla.

"I figured if we were going to have trouble it would be someone following us out of port," he said. "Our first night out of Apalachicola, on the same course taken by one of the yachts that disappeared, we saw running lights behind us. They stayed right behind us."

With a twinkle in the eye, he said, "I began to wonder what Barnaby Jones would do. So I said, 'What say we turn out our running lights and change course.' We did that and steered 30 degrees off our rhumb line to Sarasota. We saw the lights stay on the original course. We'll never know who they were, but it was a relief to be rid of them."

That's probably what Barnaby Jones would have done. Outfoxed them.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth Sign.

FOR WEDNESDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Avoid a present tendency toward lethargy. Gear efforts to achieve objectives more quickly. Improve occasionally. This day can be a helpful challenge.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Some tricky situations to handle. Don't leave anything to chance. Keep alert - all day! Look for some unexpectedly pleasant news in the p.m.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): A day for action! Get right to the heart of matters requiring immediate attention and shun persons and activities which could distract you from top priorities.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Past efforts should be bearing fruit now. Study conditions and trends which, though odd, may hold new advantages.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Try to talk with individuals important to your aims. A bit of diplomatic maneuvering could have fine results. But avoid intrigue.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): You can make headway in most matters, but some concessions may be obligatory. Do not take on new ventures without thorough investigation. No day for acting blindly.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 21): Much competition about. This is the time to do your best. Accept all challenges with your innate wisdom and affability.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Extremes (a tendency now) could slow you down, make action less efficient. Set a tempo commensurate with day's actual needs and don't go off on tangents.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 21 to Dec. 21): Where you are not certain of your course, take time to gather more facts. Be sure you are not following "blind leads" or ill-informed persons.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Personal relationships somewhat restrictive. Keep your own counsel in private matters and, above all, avoid those who would take advantage of your generosity in one way or another.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Originality will not be necessary to insure progress, so don't waste time trying to be "different." You will do best by following past, well-tested procedures.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Make your schedule a flexible one. There are possibilities of changes and variations in certain situations - all promising to be beneficial.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a high order of intelligence; have an engaging personality and are enterprising, inventive and happy-hearted. You have a great love of beauty and are artistic in whatever you do. However, you also have a practical bent which enables you to turn the most fanciful conception into a profitable reality. You love to travel and have a great affinity for the outdoors; would make an excellent gardener, botanist or horticulturist. Other fields in which you could succeed: painting, literature, music, medicine and the law. Birthdate of: Mme. Schumann-Heink, noted singer; Edward, the "Black Prince" of Wales; Edvard Grieg, Norwegian composer.

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — The new Ullum Dam in western Argentina, scheduled for completion in mid-1979, will open up the desert zone of San Juan Province in the Andes foothills to colonization and additional agricultural farmland.

More than 60 per cent of the work on Ullum Dam has been completed, and now work is starting on the 1,075-acre park zone around the dam site.

In addition to adding to the panorama from high above on Mount Ullum, the dam will be used to irrigate the arid region, enabling people to settle on farms. This government plan is designed to aid in depopulating urban centers such as Greater Buenos Aires, and to boost the country's agriculture.

MacMillan Quits Royal Ballet Post

LONDON (AP) — Kenneth Macmillan, director and resident choreographer of the Royal Ballet, Covent Garden, is quitting his directorship to concentrate on choreography. He will become fulltime choreographer to the Royal Ballet in September and will be succeeded as director by Norman Morrice, a former artistic director of the Ballet Rambert. MacMillan, 45, perhaps best known for his version of "Romeo and Juliet," said Monday it would be a "great relief" to end the clash of responsibilities of doing both jobs. He has filled both posts since 1970 when he succeeded Sir Frederick Ashton.
